Gratitude Attitude

In Long Term Care

Are you frustrated with the ongoing challenge of trying to recruit qualified, caring long term care professionals? Does the cost of your recruitment efforts continually blow your budget with little to show for the time and money you spend?

Perhaps it's time you focus more on retaining the qualified, caring long term care professionals you already have. Transform your organization into a fun place to work. Generate positive attitudes throughout your organization. Become the place where people want to work and your recruitment worries might become obsolete.

Fun? Positive Attitudes? In long term care????

It is all possible and actually quite easy with WAHSA's new tool kit – The Gratitude Attitude in Long Term Care. You will receive:

- An Activity Guidebook detailing more than 85 employee activities promoting 12 monthly themes. Most of the activities can be geared to include residents and family members. The book also includes more than 200 motivational quotations and inspiring thoughts.
- 36 posters (three of each of the twelve monthly themes)
- 13 camera-ready newsletters on practical suggestions and fun ideas to share with your employees
